When the CrossLoop installation begins, open the CrossLoop.pkg.

Follow the simple instructions to install CrossLoop on your computer.

As part of these instructions you will be asked to accept the CrossLoop Terms of Service. In some cases, the downloaded text of these Terms of Service shows an earlier Version than the definitive version which is currently Version 1.3, last revised 1/11/07 and found here. The Terms of Service includes two separate licenses. The first license is for the proprietary CrossLoop shell program and the second license is a GPL for the TightVNC program. If you have any questions about your rights to the software of these two programs, please see our detailed description of how we use VNC.

Launch CrossLoop.app from your Applications folder.
